DEAN OF STUDENTS

Dr. Charles Hueber

cmhueber@schreiner.edu

830-792-7318

Student Services provides comprehensive student experiences and social integration by actively engaging the Schreiner community in a variety of programs and services. We are committed to the creation of a holistic learning environment that prepares students to lead successful lives.

LEADERSHIP AND STUDENT ENGAGEMENT

Assistant Dean of Students

Dr. Matt Goodwyn

tmgoodwyn@schreiner.edu

830-792-7330

Schreiner University offers a wide variety of leadership development opportunities designed to help students identify and develop their leadership skills. The different leadership programs provide students an opportunity to interact with peers, faculty, and professional staff to expand upon their leadership understanding and application of leadership. Leadership opportunities include, Mountaineer Leadership Conference, I-Impact conference, Leadership Lecture Series, and Schreiner Experience Leadership Trip. Unless otherwise specified, leadership events and programs are free to students. Information about events and programs are shared throughout the year through email, and the University website with instructions on how/where to attend.

CAMPUS RECREATION

Director of Campus Recreation

Riley Bonilla

cbonilla@schreiner.edu

830-792-7412

Campus Recreation is housed in the Mountaineer Fitness Center (MFC) and provides the Schreiner University community with a safe and comfortable environment to pursue healthier lifestyle choices through fitness and recreational programming. Campus Rec offers students multiple facilities including two racquetball courts, an aerobics room, a cycling room, a cardio/weight room, an outdoor sport court, swimming pool, and locker rooms. The offices for the Health Clinic, Counseling Services, Campus Recreation, Wellness and Group Fitness, Athletic Training, and Athletic Coaches are also located in the MFC.

<http://www.schreiner.edu/MountaineerCenter/facilities.html>

WELLNESS AND GROUP FITNESS

Coordinator of Group Fitness

Ben Jones

bmjones@schreiner.edu

830-792-7486

The Office of Wellness and Group Fitness is responsible for encouraging the pursuit of holistic wellness through exercise, meditation, preventative awareness, and nutrition. The Coordinator of Wellness and Group Fitness organizes fitness classes, maintains a team of certified instructors, and assists groups of students in their pursuits of healthier lifestyles. The Coordinator also hosts private exercise and nutrition advising, produces exercise templates, introduces programs to encourage healthy lifestyles, conducts alcohol and sexual education lectures for organizations upon request, and educates people to encourage their independent and unique approach to achieve their individual health goals. These programs can be joined by emailing the Wellness Coordinator and by following SU FitLife on Facebook and Instagram. <http://students.schreiner.edu/campus-recreation/fitness-classes.aspx>

Fitness classes are free to the SU community. Participants need to bring their SU ID to the Mountaineer Fitness Center and sign in at the front desk to join the class. Classes are fully equipped to meet the demands of the workout; however individuals who wish to bring their own equipment specific to the fitness class, for example a yoga mat, may do so. The class schedule can be found in the SU main calendar tab on schreiner.edu

COUNSELING SERVICES – COUNCELING CENTER

Director of Counseling

Kim Woods

kjwoods@schreiner.edu

830-792-7282

Schreiner University Counseling Center strives to provide quality counseling, in a confidential environment, in which the student and counselor can work together to resolve concerns or to expand the personal growth of the student. Whatever the reason for the visit, the goal is to increase the student's enjoyment of life and chances for success in college. Appointments can be made with a counselor by calling 792-7282 or sending an e-mail to kjwoods@schreiner.edu. For emergencies after regular operating hours call Security at 739-1111 or call 911. <http://students.schreiner.edu/counseling>.

HEALTH CLINIC – MOUNTAINEER FITNESS CENTER

830-792-7285

<http://students.schreiner.edu/health/>

Schreiner University partnered with Peterson Medical Associates to ensure our students, faculty, and staff have access to quality medical care when they need it. The campus clinic will accept most insurance plans and affordable cash pay prices available for uninsured or those that choose not to file insurance. The clinic staff will provide fast track access (first priority) to Peterson Urgent Care (www.petersonurgentcare.com) any medical requirements that cannot be handled onsite.

As a reminder, the campus clinic is for the exclusive use of Schreiner University students, faculty, staff, and dependent family members.

If needing medical attention after hours, care needs can be directed to your resident hall director, resident assistant, or Security at 830-739-1111. If a life threatening emergency, call 911 (you may need to dial 9 for an outside line). If not a life threatening situation, you may call Peterson Medical Associates at 830-258-7762 and ask for the doctor on call or schedule an appointment with the campus nurse during business hours.

FIRST YEAR EXPERIENCE

Coordinator of First Year Programs

Adrienne McClendon

AMcClendon@schreiner.edu

830-955-5700

The First Year Experience program at Schreiner University seeks to foster a dynamic and enriching culture of success and satisfaction for incoming students. Through Freshman Seminar Courses, Mountaineer Days Orientation, Mountaineer Camp, and our nine Learning Communities, the program offers students opportunities for personal and professional growth while helping students to engage with faculty, professional staff, and their peers.

Freshman Seminar – This is a mandatory course for incoming freshmen that focuses on student success skills and practices. The course is taught by faculty or staff members alongside student Mentors and seeks to help incoming freshmen adjust to the rigor of undergraduate study while building supportive relationships with peers, faculty, and professional staff.

Mountaineer Days Orientation – Our summer orientation program assists students with their first steps transitioning into college. During orientation at Schreiner University new students meet with faculty advisors to review course offerings, learn about campus services and programs, receive detailed information on financial aid, and meet a variety of people from faculty and administrators to other new and current Schreiner students. Orientation prepares students to become a true Mountaineer.

Mountaineer Camp – Mountaineer Camp is a mandatory program focused on the social integration of incoming students with the university and their peers. Camp utilizes fun interactive activities to get students off to a great start at Schreiner, as well as unify the freshmen class and introduce students to the campus culture.

Learning Communities – Schreiner University's nine learning communities seek to help students connect in a powerful and supportive way with others who share interests and goals. Students in learning communities work closely with peers, faculty, and professional staff who are unified by a desire to make themes and experiences in and outside the classroom central to their education. Each learning community and a brief description is provided below. The university offers Living and Learning Communities in which students live together in a reserved dorm wing or floor as well as Learning Communities which do not entail a residential component.

Freshmen Honors Living and Learning Community - The Honors Living-Learning Community (LLC) offers a supportive residential setting and lively classroom experiences that allow academically advanced students to live and study together, collaborate on ideas, participate in challenging research, and pursue their academic goals. At the same time, community members will develop strong friendships through common goals, classes, conversation, and fun.

Coordinator: Dr. Clark Elliston, CJelliston@Schreiner.edu

Vesalius Living and Learning Community – The Vesalius LLC appeals to freshmen interested in health careers. Students live together, take affiliated classes, and foster a sense of community that nurtures collaboration and emphasizes critical thinking. Vesalius enhances the development of future health-care professionals through problem-based learning, attention to current research, and relationships with mentors in various health disciplines.

Coordinator: Dr. Krisann Muskiewicz, KEMuskiewicz@Schreiner.edu

Exodus Project Learning Community – EXODUS provides a learning community for Christian freshmen from all denominations interested in exploring the confluences of academics, discipleship, leadership, and service to God. Members develop supportive peer relationships and explore the tenets of Christian leadership while taking advantage of opportunities offered through local and global service learning opportunities.

Coordinator: Gini Norris-Lane, VANorrisLane@Schreiner.edu

ACE Learning Community – ACE is a learning community (LC) with a focus on academic and career exploration for first year students who are interested in exploring their major(s) and/or career goals. Students will engage in specific career-related learning in preparation for a summer internship after their freshman year.

Coordinator: Cristina Martinez, CIMartinez@Schreiner.edu

Global Scholars Living and Learning Community – The Global Scholars LLC is ideal for students from any major who want to become world citizens in our increasingly globalized society. Global Scholars participate in engaging activities and coursework with an international focus, including a 3-week study abroad experience in the summer after their freshman year.

Coordinator: Caroline Zeiher, CZeiher@Schreiner.edu

Mountaineer Leadership Academy Learning Community – The Mountaineer Leadership Academy freshmen LC launches a four-year learning community with a focus on furthering leadership development through an integrated approach of engagement within a student's academic and co-curricular experience. Members work together to identify their own leadership styles and abilities, learn to think critically about leadership as a subject, and connect with successful leaders and theories across all majors and fields of study.

Coordinator: Dr. Matt Goodwyn, TMGoodwyn@Schreiner.edu

Performing Arts Living and Learning Community – The Performing Arts Living-Learning Community helps students of all majors who have interests in music and/or theater broaden their understanding of the artistic idioms through creative experiences both on and off campus. Residents share ideas and learn new skills in a supportive environment.

Coordinator: Michael Kahl, MGKahl@Schreiner.edu

Design Thinking Learning Community – Design Thinking LC guides students from all majors through a variety of problem-solving methods via faculty-lead workshops, field trips, visits with industry professionals, and project-based learning experiences. We establish a foundation for creative problem solving through a Design Thinking workshop and semester-long research project, among other activities.

Coordinator: Clay McClure, CCMcClure@Schreiner.edu

STEM Living Learning Community – The STEM LLC provides opportunities for students interested in the fields of science, technology, engineering, or mathematics by encouraging and guiding them as they develop intentional connections and relationships with fellow students and faculty in order to excel in the classroom and to pursue meaningful research opportunities, internships, and other applied learning experiences.

Coordinator: Laura Yeck, LYeck@schreiner.edu

STUDENT ACTIVITIES AND ORGANIZATIONS

Director of Student Activities

David Gehrels

dgehrels@schreiner.edu

830-792-7283

The Office of Student Activities acts as an adviser, advocate, educator, and mentor to the students of Schreiner University by facilitating learning experiences through programming, activities, and services that promote holistic personal growth and the empowerment of students for success in our diverse community and the global society beyond. Schreiner University believes in the importance of a holistic, well-rounded university experience for each of its students. With emphasis on academics as a number one priority, the university also recognizes the importance of student social interaction. The Student Activities Office oversees the Student Activities Board (SAB), Greek Life, and Recognized Student Organizations (RSOs). The office plans, coordinates, and implements programming for educational and entertainment purposes. <http://students.schreiner.edu/activities/>

RESIDENCE LIFE

Director of Residence Life

Norma Castanon

ncastanon@schreiner.edu

830-792-7283

Living on campus means much more than just having a convenient place to eat and sleep. While it is essential that students have a safe and comfortable place to live, the purpose of Schreiner University Residence Life extends far beyond these basics.

Students are expected to become involved in the total life of the university. We strive to provide opportunities for students to become active, involved members of the campus. Through a variety of personal learning opportunities outside of formal classrooms and laboratories, students will continue the life-long learning process. Because the university believes on-campus living is important to overall education, Schreiner requires all first, second and third year students to live on campus.

All students living on campus have certain rights and responsibilities. Responsibility is not simply knowing and obeying written rules and regulations, it also means contributing to a positive experience for the group as a whole, respecting the rights of others and differing points of view, personal integrity, refraining from causing harm to another person or to property, and living a purposeful, humane, and productive life in the community.

The Residence Life staff provides programs throughout the year on various topics and issues. These are made available to the residential community and the entire campus.

If you have questions or suggestions please contact any Residence Life staff member.

STUDENT TRAVEL

Coordinator of Changing Global Society

Caroline Zeiher

czeiher@schreiner.edu

830-792-7358

An understanding of the customs in and relationships between societies and regions in the world is essential to Schreiner University's academic mission. Student travel is a fundamental way to develop global perspective. The purpose of this policy is to outline the authorization process for university-sponsored travel.

It is the policy of Schreiner University to promote safe travel by faculty, staff, students, and other participants on any university-sponsored trip or academic term, whether internationally or domestically. The university has the right to deny student travel due to substantial travel risk.

DEAN OF STUDENT SUCCESS

Dr. Candice Scott

cscott@schreiner.edu

830-792-7318

Schreiner University is committed to providing services that encourage and assist students to achieve success while enrolled at Schreiner. Guidance is provided in both academic and non-academic pursuits.

CAREER DEVELOPMENT – CAILLOUX CENTER, 2ND FLOOR

Director of Career Development

Cristina Martinez

cimartinez@schreiner.edu

830-792-7281

Career Development provides guidance to groups and individuals in resume writing, interview skills, career assessment, graduate and professional school application, internships, work study and off campus part- and full-time employment. These services are offered to the entire student population beginning their first year and continuing after graduation.

LIBRARY-WILLIAM LOGAN

Interim Director of the Library

Lisa McCormick

LMMcCormick@schreiner.edu

830-792-7312

Logan Library provides information resources and services in support of the university's educational program and its researchers. In addition to over 100,000 volumes and more than 200 periodicals, Logan Library offers students computer workstations and access to over 50 different electronic databases, most of which include full-text articles. The Library offers a Computer Commons, a Creative Technology Lab for multimedia production, quiet study spaces, group study rooms, places to meet colleagues or to just relax. When classes are in session, library hours are usually:

Monday-Thursday, 7:45 a.m. - midnight
Friday, 7:45 a.m. - 4:00 p.m.
Saturday, noon to 4:00 p.m.
Sunday, 3:00 p.m. -midnight.

Hours vary between semesters and during holidays. Always check the Library website for current hours of operation. For research assistance, ask to speak to a librarian at 830-792-7312. University ID cards are required to check out Library resources. All items must be returned to the Library at the end of each semester. Any items placed on reserve for class use are available at the Front Desk and are made available for checkout according to the instructor's wishes. Items designated for 3 hour use may not leave the library building. <http://library.schreiner.edu>

Computer Lab – Library

All students are invited to use the Computer Commons housed in Logan Library, provided they have a current university ID card. Other guidelines, including operating hours, are posted on the Logan Library website.

CENTER FOR TEACHING AND LEARNING - DICKEY HALL (1ST FLOOR)

Coordinator of Academic Support Services

Amanda Thomson

amthomson@schreiner.edu

830-792-7414

Peer Tutoring Lab – Dickey Hall 103

Students meet with peer tutors to discuss and study course material, receive assistance with homework or course assignments, and promote lifelong learning practices. The peer tutors are recommended by faculty for their high performance in courses and develop professional skills in tutoring by receiving ongoing tutor training. Peer tutoring is available free of charge to all Schreiner students. No appointments are necessary, services are provided on a walk-in basis. The schedule is available on our website

Online Tutoring

This service is available 24/7 through Tutor.com®. This service is free of charge to all students. To access this service, log into Schreiner One and find the link under the Student tab.

Writing Center- Dickey Hall 106

Students meet with peer writing tutors to discuss ideas, revise papers, and improve writing skills. The peer writing tutors are recommended by faculty for their accomplished writing skills and develop professional skills in tutoring writing through ongoing writing tutor training. The writing tutors help students at all stages in the writing process from brainstorming, focusing, and organizing to formatting and tone. The Writing Center can assist with writing across the curriculum and in all content areas. Although walk-ins are welcome, we encourage students to make an appointment to more efficiently serve their needs. Students can visit the center to make appointments and view the Writing Center schedule or by visiting our website <http://www.schreiner.edu/academics/academic-support/center-for-teaching-learning/student-academic-success/writing-center.aspx>.

Supplemental Instruction

SI is offered in selected courses that students often find especially challenging. Students meet with a dedicated SI leader in organized study groups that focus on studying materials from specific courses. SI leaders are students that have already successfully completed that course. SI leaders attend class lectures, plan and lead ongoing study sessions for any student in that course who wishes to attend. Attending SI sessions is voluntary and sessions are provided free of charge to all students in the designated courses. SI leaders coordinate study times with their class at the beginning of the semester. Once the schedule is established, SI session times and locations will be available on our website <http://www.schreiner.edu/academics/academic-support/center-for-teaching-learning/student-academic-success/supplemental-instruction.aspx>.

CENTER FOR DIGITAL LEARNING (WEIR ACADEMIC BUILDING)

Producer of Center for Digital Learning

Cecilia Barlow

cabarlow@schreiner.edu

830-792-7314

The Center for Digital Learning is a Title V grant-funded facility that focuses on bringing technology into the classroom in new and inventive ways. The Center provides a fully functioning digital lab with PC and Mac computers, collaboration classroom, podcast broadcast room, and a variety of professional production equipment for student and faculty use. The CDL provides a technology support, resources and service to students and faculty on how to turn their creative ideas into reality using a number of technical resources.

Educational Media Services

Audiovisual, multi-media, and computing equipment is available for students' use through the Instructional Technology Department's Educational Media Services. Equipment check-outs are offered at the Computer Commons in Logan Library. A sampling of available equipment includes digital cameras, camcorders, slide projectors, and LCD projectors. (A complete listing of available equipment and checkout procedures may be found on the Schreiner University Media Services web page). Equipment reservations are required twenty-four hours in advance and may be made at the Computer Commons office Monday through Friday between 8:00 a.m. and 5:00 p.m. or by calling 830-792-7262 or 830-792-7431.

Student computer resources are available in the Logan Library Computer Commons: Desktop stations, printing services, wireless network access, scanning and DVD/CD duplication are a few of the resources available. Technical assistance is available from our Instructional Technology student employees and the Computer Commons Facilitator during normal working hours. Please refer to the Logan Library web page for hours of operation. Graphic and video editing software is available on MAC and PC computers in the Creative Technology lab collocated with the Computer Commons.

SchreinerOne

SchreinerOne, the university's online campus portal, provides access to a number of school communications, web-based academic and extra-curricular services including e-mail, chats, and group bulletin boards plus password-protected online registration, grades, unofficial transcripts, and other academic information. Through SchreinerOne, students also access our learning management system (LMS). Faculty may use SchreinerOne's LMS to supplement traditional class work, allowing registered students to access their personal course calendars, course syllabi, handouts, and other tools the instructor deems helpful.

CAMPUS MINISTRY – JUNKIN CAMPUS MINISTRY HOUSE

Campus Minister

Rev. Gini Norris-Lane

VANorrisLane@schreiner.edu

830-792-7284

While rooted in the Presbyterian (USA) tradition, Schreiner University in the spirit of Christian hospitality offers opportunities for spiritual growth to persons of all faiths. Schreiner University seeks to provide opportunities for people to celebrate and grow in their faith and knowledge through worship, service, fellowship and study.

The Campus Minister is an ordained minister who provides pastoral care, emergency counseling, and helps students find outside assistance when needed. The Campus Minister works closely with a student campus ministry team providing chapel services, informal Bible study, prayer groups, retreats, social activities, and service opportunities for the campus community.

Closely associated with Schreiner's Campus Ministry is the Church Vocations Internship Program (CVIP). This academic course is designed to help students prepare for a variety of professional ordained or lay ministry positions in congregations and church-related settings. The CVIP program consists of course work, internship hours and co-curricular events designed to help students explore their vocational calling while also providing opportunities for hands-on experience. For more information, call Judy Ferguson, Director of CVIP, at 830-792-7287.

Schreiner University's goal is to support each student in such a way that maximum benefits can be awarded. To ensure this occurs, it is essential for each student to take responsibility for knowing and meeting application deadlines, and for following up with the Office of Financial Aid. Counselors are available 8 a.m. – 5 p.m. Monday – Friday.

The Office of Campus Safety & Security consists of a team of people working with the campus community to promote a safe environment in which to live, learn, and work. Primarily service-oriented, the department exists to meet the specialized safety needs of the University. These needs include the maintenance of public order, incident response and documentation, emergency first-aid treatment, responding to other emergencies, traffic, parking supervision, and other related activities.
